

國立台灣史前文化博物館 National Museum of Prehistory

台灣史前文化博物館是台灣首座國家級考古博物館，展示台灣各地的史前文物，以保存、研究史前與原住民文化為主題。史前館包含「本館」與「卑南文化公園」兩個館區。本館坐落於康樂火車站右側，占地10公頃，透過文物展示廳，詳盡介紹台灣史前自然與文化的發展史、南島民族的文化與發展；卑南文化公園位於台東火車站後方，占地18公頃，是國內第一座考古遺址公園。

史前館本館建築是由美國後現代主義建築師邁可·葛雷弗（Michael

Graves）與台灣建築師沈祖海所共同設計。太陽廣場上的巨大青銅日晷，營造史前文化的意象氛圍。建築外觀上，將南島民族的圖騰和文化轉化為具象的建築裝飾。

館內的主題展示廳分別帶領遊客從地質、生物、人類的演進，來認識台灣自然史；由考古遺跡和出土文物，來了解台灣史前史；於南島民族的生活文物中，瀏覽原住民族群的文化傳承。館外還規劃有水舞、迷宮、兒童遊戲區、景觀花園等設施。

國立台灣史前文化博物館的人形玉髓。
A chalcedony figure, a jade reservation by National Museum of Prehistory.

NMP is the first state archaeological museum in Taiwan. Dedicated to the reservation and study of prehistoric and indigenous culture, it exhibits the relics excavated from Beinan site. NMP consists of two parts, the main building and Beinan Cultural Park. Situated near the right of Kangle Railway Station, the main building and its 10-hectare museum area presents explicit introduction on the prehistoric development of Taiwan's nature and culture as well as the Austronesian culture. Behind Taitung Railway Station, the 18-hectare Beinan Cultural Park is the first archaeological site park in Taiwan.

The museum is a design by American post-modern architect Michael Graves and domestic architect Haigo T. H. Shen. While the huge bronze sundial on Sun Square creates an image of prehistoric culture, the building adopts the Austronesian totem and cultural features for exterior decoration.

Different theme exhibition halls lead visitors to understand Taiwan's natural history through geologic, biologic and anthropic development, Taiwan's prehistory through archaeological findings, and the aboriginal heritage through Austronesian cultural discoveries. The outdoor area comprises the establishments of a musical fountain, a labyrinth, a children's playground and a scenic garden.
